Infinidat's InfiniBox SSA named one of the best enterprise storage arrays of the year

Infinidat announced that TechTarget has awarded the company's InfiniBox SSA system the Silver award in the Storage Product of the Year disk and disk subsystem category. As one of the top three enterprise storage arrays in the highly touted storage industry competition, the InfiniBox SSA was honoured for its sophisticated use of DRAM, autonomous automation, ultra-high performance and availability, and lower total cost of ownership. "Winning a top honour in one of the most important Storage Product of the Year competitions in our industry underscores how the InfiniBox SSA delivers enterprises industry-leading innovation and technology that drives strong business value," said Eric Herzog, CMO at Infinidat.
