By partnering with Standard Bank CIB in the establishment of Seriti Green, Seriti Resources has achieved a major milestone in the journey towards just energy in South Africa. Seriti Green's 155MW Ummbila Emoyeni Wind Farm in Mpumalanga is a significant step towards the greater Ummbila Emoyeni planned production of 900MW in the region, and a prime example of the transition to clean, decentralised energy in South Africa as it anticipates the longer-term phasing out of the many coal-fired power plants in the area. It has also energised local communities in other ways, creating employment, providing training, developing infrastructure, promoting sustainable agriculture and stimulating SMEs and individual livelihoods alike. All in all, the Ummbila Emoyeni Wind Farm is a giant leap towards ensuring future energy security – in the most sustainable way possible.
